Joy Ride at 8 Years.

Jewell City, Kas., July 8.—John Blankenship, 8 years old, is one of the young motorists in the state. Yesterday he got out his father's car and went out of town at a 25-mile clip. On the way he picked up two companions, both as young as himself, and drove several miles into the country, before their parents discovered their absence. The youthful joyriders, on their return trip crossed two iron bridges and went up and down several steep hills.
 Besides this, young Blankenship succeeded in getting the machine out through the back door of the barn, took down the wire fence, laid down boards to protect the tires, ran the car over them and through a ditch fourteen inches deep, and would have returned the auto to the barn again, before his father could catch him had not the engine went dead in crossing the ditch on the return trip. People along the way stared in bewilderment on the machine apparently running itself, with the top of three heads scarcely visible.

Will Fight Gerrymander

Jefferson City, Mo., July 8.—Unpromulgated by any proclamation of the governor, the Roach-Major gerrymander of the state senatorial districts has been stored away in the office of the secretary of state. The people have had no official notice that the attorney general and the secretary of state had undertaken to perpetrate another Democratic gerrymander upon the State Senate.

Gov. Hadley declined to sign the gerrymander and refused to promulgate it for the reason that it sought to deprive a majority of the voters of the state of proper representation in the State Senate. He notified Roach to spend none of the state's money in attempting to promulgate the gerrymander and not to include it in the session acts of the Forty-sixth General Assembly.

Rosch was asked yesterday how he intends to let the people know officially that the nominations are to be made under the new gerrymander. He said they would find out about the change in senatorial districts in the same way they find out about the enactment of any new law. He said nominations would be made under the new gerrymander.

Gov. Hadley and the Republican leaders probably will take steps to test the legality of the Roach-Major gerrymander before any nominations are made under it. In addition an initiative law will be submitted to the people in 1912 for laying out fairly the state senatorial districts. The Roach-Major gerrymander deprives St. Louis of the representation to which it is entitled. Although under the government census of 1910 St. Louis is entitled to seven state senators its representation was left at six. Jackson County was given an additional senator. St. Louis went Republican last election and Jackson county heavily Democratic.

In Memoriam

Little Myrtle Hotz died July 6th 1911 of fever. Myrtle was the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hotz. She was born Dec. 6, 1908. Aged 2 years and 7 months. She had been sick for over two weeks and all that medical aid and the devoted attention of loving parents and relatives and friends could do was done for the sweet patient sufferer, yet God in His infinite wisdom deemed it best to take the lovely rosebud unfolded so sweetly here and let it bloom in Heaven. And with breaking hearts the parents went to God in prayer with a submissive spirit and said "Thy will be done." Oh, who can fathom the depths of a parents love. And none but those bereft can know how this lily is missed in the home circle for Myrtle was a precious child to them, and a child who won the love and affection of all those who knew her. Her short life was one of happiness.

Her funeral services were conducted by their pastor, Rev. Limper in the Christian church Friday morning.

Four young girls robed in white were pall bearers. The beautiful floral offerings were a sweet tribute to little Myrtles memory. She was laid to rest in the cemetery near Blackburn. The golden sun and pearly dew drops will ever be over her there.

She leaves a father and mother, two little sisters, four grand parents, several aunts and a host of relatives and also a number of friends to mourn her.

Yes the hours are sweet Myrtle went, as the twilight deepened into the tinge of evening and as the silvery moonbeams gleamed with a soft ray of light, around her little bed her dear life began to ebb away and as the dawn began her precious spirit left this earthly for the heavenly home and joined the angelic throng.

She is another jewel in God's crown and some sweet day, all her loved ones will meet her up there to part no more for "we never say goodbye in heaven."
